Adam was fantastic, technically I physically typed the code out, but we worked together on building the module and functions. He was an absolute beast and did basically all of the write up, and I love him for that. Adam's computer was being weird, though, so all of the pictures in the write up are from yours truly (not a big deal).

-Josh